課程簡介

This course discuss two main components; learning styles and learning strategies. The first component will introduce the main types of learning styles, examples how each learning style can be used, and a questionnaire to help students identify their own set of preferred learning styles. The second component will introduce some learning strategies that students can use with their own learning style and to achieve different learning objectives. Like the learning styles, there is a questionnaire to help students identify learning situations they can apply the strategies in and how suitable they are for them

課程目標
